Contractor Must Pay Wife Alimony of $40 a Week in Sanitarium.

To save the life of Mrs. Mildred Paterno, Supreme Court Justice Page today made an order compelling Francis S. Paterno, who is associated with his father in the Paterno & Son Contracting Company, to pay his wife $40 a week alimony pending an appeal which Paterno has taken to the higher courts. Mrs. Paterno recently sued her young husband for a separation and was awarded the alimony several weeks ago by Justice Cobleskill. Paterno asked for a stay, declaring that unless it was granted to him pending his appeal he might become liable for contempt of court. Too ill to appear in court, Mrs. Paterno submitted affidavits to Justice Page in which she and her brother, Joseph Pascoello, a young attorney, declared that without support from her husband Mrs. Paterno would succumb to tuberculosis. She holds that her husband is well able to send her back to the Loomis Sanitarium in Sullivan County, where she was successfully undergoing treatment, until, she alleges, he cut off her allowance and compelled her to return to New York City. Since then the disease has made greater inroads than before, she says.

"If the stay is granted," says Mrs. Paterno, "and I am kept in the city for a few months pending the outcome of my husband's appeal, this will so shorten my life that the successful issue of my separation suit will prove fruitless for me, for I may not survive many months after the determination."

DECLARES STAY WOULD RESULT IN HER DEATH.

"It would be practically equivalent, Your Honor, to signing a death warrant for me," she continued.

"I was in sound health prior to my marriage to Mr. Paterno, coming from a sturdy family, free from any tubercular taint. I contracted the disease from association with relatives of my husband. Three of them died of the white plague."

"I was in the Loomis Sanitarium for a year and a half, where I responded well to treatment. But the arrest of the disease was defeated by the heartlessness and parsimony of my husband, who wrote the institution authorities that under no circumstances would he continue to be longer responsible for my bills at the sanitarium. At the time he wrote the letter he was scattering his income with a free hand with women of questionable repute in the familiar haunts of vice in this city."

"In September last year, when I was doing best under the treatment, I was forced to leave the sanitarium. I had been unprovided for by my husband. The benefit of all the previous treatment had been lost."

FAVORABLE ORDER WOULD SAVE HER LIFE.

"I am in bed in my mother's home, anxiously awaiting the court's order that will enable me to return to the sanitarium in a final effort to save my life."

Without comment Justice Page signed the order. It was announced by Mrs. Paterno's attorneys that if the husband immediately complied with the order she would be returned to the sanitarium in two days.

The Paterno & Son Contracting Company owns many of the most fashionable apartment houses uptown and is now engaged in the construction of others. The young husband's father is said to be very wealthy.

Report Shows Operating Expenses Have Made Deficit $100,000.

The Public Service Commission today received from the New York Consolidated Railroad Company, which is the corporate name of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit, a report of its operations for the month of January covering its part in the dual system, which up to the present time takes in only the loop connecting the Brooklyn, Manhattan and Williamsburg bridges.

The figures for January show that the gross receipts still fall below the amount needed to pay rentals, taxes, operating expenses and the like. The deficiency for January was $44,485.66, making a total deficiency from Aug. 4, 1913, to January 31, 1914, of $100,000.74.

Grand Union Hotel to Go.

The Public Service Commission today requested Corporation Counsel Poik to begin action for the condemnation of the Grand Union Hotel. This is made necessary by the proposed diagonal route by which the Grand Central terminal and the Lexington avenue line are to be connected with the present subway.

TAFT DENIES REPORT HE WILL LEAVE YALE

"No Truth in Any Part of the Statement" That He Is Going on Supreme Court Bench.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 10.—"There is absolutely no truth in any part of the statement," was the answer of ex-President W. H. Taft today to a published report that he would terminate his Yale professorship within a year and accept appointment to the United States Supreme Court. The report declared the resignation of Justice Holmes would make the vacancy on the bench which Taft would fill.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Revival of the year-old story that President Wilson was to "reward" former President Taft by appointing him to a vacancy to be created on the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States was received with annoyance at the White House today.

"The story is so ridiculous as hardly to need denial," said Secretary Turnulty. "This yarn originated a week before Mr. Wilson became President and is periodically revived. We know of no coming vacancy on the Supreme Court bench, and Mr. Taft's name has neither been suggested nor considered by President Wilson for any judicial appointment."
